

LICENCE TERMS FOR CONSULTING ACTIVITIES

COMPANIES AND OTHER ORGANISATIONS

Valid until further notice from 1 January 2026 onwards

If you work in a company or other organisation, you may copy works and publications in accordance with these licence terms and include copies in a slideshow you make for the consulting services offered by your organisation.

You may only make copies and use them under these terms and conditions if your organisation has obtained this additional licence and holds a valid copying licence for companies and other organisations. Confirm with your organisation or Kopioisto whether your organisation holds both licences.

Kopioisto is the most extensive copyright organisation representing the creative industry in Finland. We make the use of creative works effortless and ensure that creative professionals and copyright holders receive the appropriate remuneration when their works are used. Kopioisto's member organisations are listed on the Kopioisto website.

1. KEY CONCEPTS

CONSULTING ACTIVITIES

Consulting activities means the expert services your organisation provides to address challenges and development needs related to a customer's operations. This may include advice, guidance, studies, surveys, assessments, or similar expert work.

COPYRIGHT HOLDER

A copyright holder is the original author of the work or the party to whom the author has either fully or partially transferred their copyright, such as a publisher.

WORK AND PUBLICATION

In these licence terms, work means

- literary, illustrative, and other visual works protected by the Copyright Act – for example, a journal article and its accompanying illustrations
- photographs
- any parts of these works.

Publication means a publication in either print or digital format—for example, a book, research report, or newspaper/magazine publication.

COPYING

In these licence terms, copying means making full or partial copies of a work or publication. This includes photocopying, printing, or scanning works and publications, or parts of them, to the extent allowed under the licence, as well as digital copying, such as

- copying an image or text from a website
- taking a screenshot
- downloading and/or saving a PDF file
- photographing pages of publications.

2. WHAT AM I ALLOWED TO COPY?

2.1 You may make copies

- to the extent allowed under the licence
- if the works or publications are not subject to any of the prohibitions or restrictions mentioned in these terms.

This licence allows you to make copies from the following sources:

- original publications, such as books or magazines
- works, such as images or texts, that have been published on the internet with the copyright holder's consent, if they can be accessed without a specific licence or other right of use
- e-books to which you have contractual or subscription-based access
- works or publications that the copyright holder has included in the scope of Kopiosto's licence, even if they would not otherwise be covered by the licence according to Section 2.2. See the list at www.kopiosto.fi/en/kopiosto/materials-included-in-our-copying-licence.

2.2 You may not make copies of

- workbooks or answer keys
- sheet music or song lyrics
- materials used under a separate agreement or licence, such as
 - newspaper and magazine materials behind a paywall
 - digital standards
 - content available on the SFS Online or Rakennustieto digital services
- works created by private individuals and shared by them on social media, discussion forums, blogs, or image-sharing services
- images sold separately from an article or other publication by photo agencies and similar organisations
- works or publications excluded from Kopiosto's licence at the copyright holder's request. See the list at www.kopiosto.fi/en/kopiosto/copying-prohibitions.

NOTE! With this licence, you may not scan or digitally copy

- research reports or similar publications
- scripts of plays
- comics originally published outside Finland.

The copying licence does not apply to

- audiovisual works, such as TV programmes, films, or other videos
- audio recordings, such as music recordings, radio programmes, or audiobooks
- computer software and games
- databases and catalogues, such as notification services or statistical databases
- works that may be used under a Creative Commons (CC) licence or similar open licence.

3. PURPOSE OF USE OF THE COPIES

3.1 You may

- include copies in a slideshow you prepare for your consulting activities as allowed under Section 5.2.

3.2 You may not

- use copies for publishing activities or other external communications or uses, such as
 - in marketing
 - on the internet
 - on social media
 - in printed publications
- use copies to
 - create material banks or databases
 - produce or form material services that would compete with commercial services.

With this licence, you may not use works or publications, in full or in part, in AI programs. In this context, an AI program is an application or tool that is based on machine learning, language models, or similar technology.

You may not upload copies to AI programs or use them for

- text and data mining
- fine-tuning, developing, training, or enriching an algorithm
- fine-tuning, developing, training, or providing an AI program.

You may not collect and store works using web scraping or similar data harvesting methods.

4. HOW MUCH MAY I COPY?

4.1 Concepts used in Section 4

Article means a written composition—and any related images—published in a newspaper or magazine or shared in an online publication, news website, or any similar websites.

Magazine means a journal, scientific periodical publication, or other digital or printed publication that is published regularly, at least once a year, and can be subscribed to, bought separately, or received through a membership- or customer relationship.

Newspaper means a digital or printed publication that is published at least once a week and primarily contains news as well as written compositions that report or comment on current issues in various areas of society.

4.2 Number of pages that may be copied

You may attach copies to your slideshow to the extent allowed under this section:

SOURCE MATERIAL		AMOUNT
	Publications and e-books	A maximum of 20 pages per publication; in any case, no more than 50% of a publication.
	Websites	20 images or A4-sized pages per website.
	Magazines and newspapers	A full article; in any case, no more than 50% of the edited content of a newspaper or magazine.
	Printed standards and publications containing them	A maximum of 20% of a publication; in any case, no more than 20 pages.

- You may only make copies if your organisation has obtained a copying licence for companies and other organisations as well as this additional licence.
- You may make copies of a slideshow for the number of participants in the consultation session, as well as a few copies for yourself, up to a maximum of 500 copies. For more extensive copying, you must enter into a separate agreement with Kopiosto.
- If you copy an image, article, or similar on a single page of a website or publication, this is equivalent to copying one page.

5. IN WHAT WAYS MAY COPIES BE USED?

5.1 Concepts used in Section 5

Slideshow means a presentation you have prepared yourself for consulting activities or a consulting tender, such as a Power Point, Google Slides, or similar presentation.

A closed platform means a closed network whose access is restricted to only the parties involved in the consulting activities, as mentioned in Section 5.2.

5.2 Using copies in a slideshow

You may

- You may copy works and extracts from publications as part of a slideshow you create for your consulting activities to the extent allowed under Section 4.2
- A slideshow may be
 - presented to the participants of a consultation session on site or remotely
 - distributed by email, on a closed platform, as paper copies or printouts to
 - the participants of a consultation session
 - the participants in the tendering phase of a consultation
 - consulting partners
 - subcontractors involved in consulting activities.
 - stored on a closed platform in a manner that ensures it is accessible only to the parties listed above who are involved in the consulting activities for the duration of the consulting assignment, up to a maximum of one year.

Obtaining materials that are available on the market is always a priority.

← Persons who receive the slideshow may not share it if you have included material under this licence.

6. MARKING OF PUBLICATION AND AUTHOR INFORMATION

- Always include in the slideshow the source and author information for all content copied into it, as well as a statement indicating that the slideshow was made under Kopioisto's copying licence.
- Do not remove or change the metadata of a work or photograph.

7. REPORTING TO KOPIOSTO

You can report the copies you have made in Kopioisto's reporting service: www.kopioisto.fi/raportointi. Kopioisto uses the reported information to distribute remuneration to copyright holders.

8. OTHER TERMS

- You may not charge a fee for a slideshow to which you have attached copies made under this licence, or offer it for sale.
- You may not change or alter the content of a digitally copied work or any file created by copying.
- When the additional licence is no longer valid, you must delete all copies of your slideshows made under this licence and stop using them .
- This additional licence is only valid while your organisation holds a copying licence for companies and other organisations. If your organisation terminates the copying licence, this additional licence will also automatically expire.
- If you copy or use works in violation of these licence terms, Kopioisto may terminate this additional licence and/or the copying licence for companies and other organisations with immediate effect.
